The Fund may also invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in collective investment schemes including money market funds.

Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund

The investment objective of the Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund (the “Fund”) was to generate a total return consisting of capital and income appreciation which exceeded European cash rates over the medium to long term.

In order to achieve its investment objective, the Fund used a tactical asset allocation strategy which had no formal limitations on exposure to any specific asset class, sector, country or region, including emerging markets. In this regard, the Investment Manager sought to actively allocate the Fund’s portfolio of investments across asset classes to diversify returns, manage risk and achieve the investment objective. The asset allocation model was adjusted dynamically in anticipation of and in response to changes in economic and market conditions. Allocations were made at the Investment Manager’s discretion, based upon analysis of investment returns primarily from asset allocation but also from sector and security selection. Investments within each asset class were then selected by analysing the profitability, cash flow, earnings and valuations to determine their attractiveness.

The Fund terminated on 1 October 2020.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full investment objective and policy of all the Funds.

How the Funds are managed

The Manager of the Company, Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings China A-Share Fund. In turn, Baring Asset Management Limited has appointed Baring Asset Management (Asia) Limited as Sub-Investment Manager of the Fund.

The Fund invests in Chinese companies listed on the stock exchanges of Shanghai and Shenzhen using a “bottom-up” investment approach. This means that we are focused more on the individual merits of specific companies, rather than taking a stance on the outcome of a sector of the market or macroeconomic developments such as interest rate rises.

Within this, the Fund is managed using a quality Growth at a Reasonable Price (the “GARP”) approach. When researching candidates for the portfolio, we look for companies with three characteristics. Firstly, companies with good potential for long-term earnings growth. Secondly, companies with attributes which in our experience are associated with “high-quality” companies, such as strong balance sheets and good management teams, with experience in delivering value to shareholders. Finally, companies with share price valuations which still have room for upside when compared with history or similar companies – in other words, potential for an attractive investment return.

The Manager of the Company, has also appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Europe Select Fund, Barings European Opportunities Fund and Barings German Growth Fund.

At Barings, our equity investment teams share the philosophy of quality “Growth at a Reasonable Price” or GARP. We believe that earnings growth is the principal driver of equity market performance over the medium to long term, and favour high-quality companies for their ability to outperform the market on a risk-adjusted basis. In particular, we believe that structured fundamental research and a disciplined investment process combining quality, growth and upside disciplines can allow us to identify attractively priced, long-term growth companies which will outperform the market. Our approach emphasises quality criteria when looking at companies and a three-to five-year time horizon when forecasting company earnings. In determining upside, we use consistent and transparent methods to place emphasis on discounted earnings models.

The Manager of the Company, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund.

Our investment process is predominantly “bottom-up”. To find the exceptional businesses that make up the strategy, we use a broad range of research inputs: Barings’ internal analytical resources, industry experts, company meetings, quantitative research and company reports, among others. We are natural sceptics – rather than buying into a “story”, we seek proof of a company’s excellence. Only our highest-conviction ideas make it into the strategy, so robust debate and close analysis of fundamentals are key.

We evaluate candidate companies using the following three-stage process:

1. Quality: we scrutinise a company’s business model, looking for a range of features and competitive advantages, including network effects, benefits to incumbency, large installed bases, leading brands or a sustainable research and development (“R&D”) edge. Upon inspection, companies must earn attractive returns on capital, possess excellent financial profiles and have a management team committed to its role as the steward of shareholder wealth.
2. Growth: we assess our candidate companies’ ability to deliver long-term profit growth. Sustained growth of both capital and dividends can only be achieved if the underlying business is flourishing. Our process leads us to firms with stable and visible growth profiles rather than companies with more speculative growth ambitions, or those businesses whose fortunes are heavily linked to unpredictable external forces. The ideal investment is a growing company with meaningful control of its own destiny.
3. Valuation and scenario analysis: financial statements are “cleaned” of any accounting distortions (such as off balance-sheet liabilities) which may obscure the true financial position of a business, and companies are put through a series of business-specific stress tests. The aim is to ascertain the underlying risk that an investment presents, and to gauge the scale of profit and dividend progression we can reasonably expect under various circumstances. Many companies “fail” this stage of the process – businesses are often found to present too much risk once their underlying fundamentals are “tested”. If a company does pass this stage, we then ascertain the long-term value of the business using a highly consistent and cash-based set of valuation techniques.

The Manager of the Company, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund.

The Investment Manager adopts a top-down approach to investing in this Fund. For Global equities, this means that the Investment Manager dynamically allocates to countries, sectors, currencies and styles. This approach incorporates the Investment Manager’s views on macroeconomic trends such as economic growth and interest rate levels. The investment strategy is implemented using passive stock selection via a portfolio which consists of directly held equities that are constituents of the reference index. This portfolio will normally hold between 400 and 500 stocks.

The Manager of the Company, appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund.

The Manager used the ideas generated by the Strategic Policy Group, our global macro research asset allocation group, to choose what we believed were the best investments to achieve the investment objectives of the Fund. This meant that we constructed a portfolio of stocks or bonds from a mix of companies, countries and sectors to suit our current asset allocation policy at that point in time.

We believed that asset allocation was the most important driver of returns. It was important to be in the right market at the right time, and to be able to retreat to a more defensive position to help manage risk. We followed a two-stage investment process that accessed both long-term return opportunities, driven by slowly evolving macroeconomic factors, and shorter-term opportunities generated by market volatility. We maintained a forward-looking approach and were conscious that what proved to be a defensive asset in a previous downturn may not always be suitable. We used our wide investment universe to ensure that we avoided over diversification and focus on assets that we believed were appropriate for the prevailing economic and market cycle.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full risk profile for each of the Funds. Investors should read the Prospectus and carefully consider the potential risk factors as well as reward factors before investing.

Investment Managers' Report

For the financial period ended 31 October 2020

Barings China A-Share Fund

Performance

Barings China A-Share Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 45.2% on the Class A USD Acc share class and outperformed the performance comparator with a return of 27.5%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 43.4% on the Class A USD Acc share class.

Chinese onshore equities recovered from March lows after the outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic and rallied over the 6-month period. In addition to robust macro readings which indicated a solid economic recovery path on track, positive earnings surprises particularly from some of the new economy names also buoyed market outperformance. Meanwhile, a strong pipeline of IPOs in the Chinese equity markets also underpinned positive investment momentum despite some market fluctuations partly resulting from re-escalated China-US tensions.

Stock selection was a key contributor to the relative outperformance over the reporting period, especially in the consumer and industrial sectors. On the stock level, beer manufacturer Chongqing Brewery continued its uptrend and ended the review period as a notable contributor. Share price was buoyed by the announcement of the company's asset reorganisation plan through acquiring stakes of the joint venture held with Carlsberg Brewery Hong Kong, which is expected to not only inject quality assets but also increase brand awareness of the company in the longer run. Meituan Dianping also contributed positively, largely driven by satisfactory earnings results of the second quarter thanks to strong order growth in food and grocery delivery and lower-than-expected operating cost. Solar cell equipment manufacturer Suzhou Maxwell Technologies also added value to the Fund, as the share price was buoyed by its R&D (Research & Development) progress on solar cell equipment.

On the other hand, our investment in electronic component manufacturer Shennan Circuit detracted from relative performance, as the news flow around the US' ban on Huawei alongside potential export restrictions posed on one of China's top chipmakers hurt the near-term sentiment of the domestic semiconductor industry. Our lack of exposure to solar wafer manufacturer Longi Green Energy Technology was another drag, largely due to resilient solar demand recovery globally which underpinned solid earnings growth momentum of the company in the near-term.

Market outlook

In the near term, we expect proactive fiscal stimulus alongside flexible monetary measures to remain the status quo, which would be instrumental in terms of further stabilizing the economy and paving the way for the rebound momentum in areas such as consumption, which have relatively lagged behind the expected recovery progress. We have seen a strong demand for domestic leisure travel especially stimulated by the Chinese Golden Week Holiday, with a solid rebound of hotel bookings and airline load factors. This could potentially indicate positive signs of growth catching-up for these more severely impacted industries amid the pandemic should the recovery momentum continue. Recent news on the positive development of the Covid-19 vaccine from Pfizer also confirms that outlook.

Meanwhile, the just-concluded 5th Plenum of the 19th Party Congress provided a brief summary of the proposals for the 14th five-year plan (2021-2025), with key highlights including the continuation of economic transformation towards higher quality and sustainable growth, as well as self-sufficiency and innovation of key technologies in the next 5-15 years. We expect these policy directions to bring strong support and subsequent positive market sentiment to certain areas, such as new infrastructure, domestic consumption, new energy, health care and technology localisation.

Nonetheless, we expect volatility to prevail in the short run as the US presidential elections conclude and Covid-19 vaccine development progresses, which may change the near-term outlook on leisure industries, technology sectors and more. While we will closely monitor these key factors and accustom to the appropriate portfolio construction steps driven by share price movements on a case-by-case scenario, we still hold a positive outlook on the relevant names within our portfolio in the longer run on the back of their resilient structural growth potentials and quality franchises.

Barings Europe Select Fund

Performance

Barings Europe Select Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 7.3% on the Class J EUR Inc share class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 9.8%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 6.8% on the Class J EUR Inc share class.

This relative underperformance followed a very strong start to the year during which our portfolio proved relatively resilient in a rapidly declining equity market, as the Covid-19 pandemic arrested market sentiment in February and March. In more recent months, however, European Smaller Companies have seen a strong rally in the shares of companies that had been experiencing negative earnings revisions. Our focus on companies that are improving the quality of their earnings and business models, therefore, while helping our relative performance during the market downturn, meant that our portfolio did not participate as meaningfully in the recent short-term market rally.

At the stock level, shares in Norwegian oil services company TGS-Nopec were relatively weak, partly reflecting weakness in the oil price. We continue to hold shares in TGS-Nopec as we believe it remains a strong, high quality business irrespective of the oil price due its robust balance sheet, cash generation ability, attractive valuation, and favourable position compared to peers. Shares in Royal Vopak, a Dutch storage and handling company specialising in oil and natural gas-related services, suffered profit-taking following results which were slightly below market expectations; meanwhile management stated that they expect the current oil price environment to have a positive impact on demand for its oil storage services in the coming quarters. Partially offsetting this relative weakness, shares in KION, a German leader in automating warehouse workflows and production warehouse trucks, were strong following better than expected Q2 results which indicated that orders in its warehouse automation solutions division had risen significantly, largely driven by high value orders from e-tailing and online clients.

Market outlook

The strong performance by stock markets in the last six months appears at odds with an apparent slow-down in the rate of recovery of most developed market economies from earlier lockdowns. Consistently, manufacturing activities appear to be leading the global recovery, suggesting that companies and suppliers are becoming more proficient at maintaining output in factories that have been reconfigured to support social distancing and other measures aimed at preventing the spread of coronavirus. Services sectors are generally weak, however, in part reflecting the continued widespread reluctance to travel, both for recreational and business purposes, to repopulate offices, or to indulge in leisure activities.

As a result of the significant rebound in equity prices over the last six months, valuations suggest there is very limited potential for further re-rating, although reinstatement of dividends that were postponed earlier this year may provide further support to equity markets. This indicates that company fundamentals will become even more important to determine a company's long-term value in the coming months. This is especially true of the smaller company universe, as recovering margins are likely to push earnings growth to double digits in 2021. Nonetheless, consensus earnings growth forecasts for 2021 likely remain too optimistic, in our view, as companies' ability to generate 2021 earnings in excess of 2019 profits is likely to be challenged given the deterioration in economic conditions.

In this context, and in line with our quality Growth at a Reasonable Price investment approach, we continue to rely on bottom-up stock selection to identify investment opportunities in companies which we believe will benefit from long-term, structural growth that is not necessarily dependent on economic growth; the ability to fund their own growth ambitions; and clear, open communication with stakeholders. Likewise, we continue to avoid investments in highly cyclical companies, particularly those whose fortunes are dependent on commodity price developments; balance sheet stressed companies; and companies that display poor corporate governance and shareholder rights protection.

The share price of Beazley, the UK listed insurance company, was also negatively impacted after the company increased estimates for the cost of insurance claims related to Covid. Partially offsetting this relative weakness, shares in KION, a German leader in automating warehouse workflows and production warehouse trucks, were strong following better than expected Q2 results that indicated that orders in its warehouse automation solutions division had risen significantly, largely driven by high value orders from e-tailing and online clients. In addition, the shares of JD Sports Fashion, the UK retailer, responded positively to the company's reports that trading had recovered strongly following the reopening of its stores after the spring lockdown.

Performance

Barings German Growth Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 0.7% on the Class J EUR Acc share class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 7.0%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 0.2% on the Class J EUR Acc share class.

Stock selection among larger companies was the key detractor from returns, stemming from our decision not to hold shares in companies including Siemens, Daimler and Adidas. These companies are not held in the portfolio because we do not feel they meet our Growth at a Reasonable Price investment criteria, or where we have higher conviction ideas elsewhere; however, these stocks performed strongly in the period under review, in some cases due to a broader market preference for defensive companies which were somewhat underrepresented in the German Growth Fund portfolio. At the stock level, the Fund was also impacted by weakness from holdings such as LPKF Laser and Electronics, which suffered profit-taking despite better than expected Q3 profitability.

On the positive side, we did see strong performance from some of the portfolio's holdings including Allgeier following the announcement that the company is planning to spin off its Nagarro software division, which should release value, while management upgraded profit guidance. Shares in KION, a German leader in automating warehouse workflows and production warehouse trucks, were strong following better than expected Q2 results which indicated that orders in its warehouse automation solutions division had risen significantly, largely driven by high value orders from e-tailing and online clients.

Market outlook

Whilst the short term market outlook is probably as uncertain as it has been in at least a generation - at the time of writing Pfizer BioNTech have recently announced a successful trial of their Covid-19 vaccine, Donald Trump is still contesting the US Presidential Election result, and Covid-19 cases continue to rise - we remain confident that, over the longer term, the global economy will recover to "pre-Covid-19" levels in due course.

In part the timing will be dependent on when a vaccine is available and able to be widely distributed. We have also been encouraged by the quick rebound in macroeconomic data from the lows seen through the spring and early summer when tight lockdown restrictions were in place. Furthermore, there is also the release of pent-up consumer demand to consider as a driver to company profits, in addition to the various government and central bank stimulus packages that are already in place. As such, as we will continue to focus on our key long-term investment tenets, and we remain confident the fund is well positioned to prosper in the years ahead.

However, there is no doubt that whilst the world as a whole should return to some sort of normality in the next year or so, the make-up/mix of company profits/GDP will have changed for good. With this in mind, we need to consider such questions as: will Covid-19 lead to a longer term change in consumer spending habits for certain items, and how will various industry trends now develop over the longer term; for example, in travel, and property? There are also broader trends that have continued to gain prominence over the past six months or so, including the shift of the global energy mix towards renewables, aided by parts of these government stimulus packages.

In this context, and in line with our quality Growth at a Reasonable Price investment approach, we continue to rely on bottom-up stock selection to identify investment opportunities in companies which we believe will benefit from long-term, structural growth that is not necessarily dependent on economic growth; the ability to fund their own growth ambitions; and clear, open communication with stakeholders.

Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund

Performance

Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 7.3% on the Class A USD Acc share class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 12.6%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 6.4% on the Class A USD Acc share class.

Shares in consumer-focused companies, such as global contract caterer Compass Group, were relatively weak in the period as profits were severely impacted by the lower customer demand related to Covid-19. Despite short-term weakness, we continue to believe the Fund's holdings offer resilient earnings and dividend streams over the longer term, and should emerge from the pandemic in a strong competitive position. Compass Group, for example, benefits from a very durable franchise with market shares in some of its markets more than double the nearest competitor, meanwhile it is a capital light business and is operating in a highly fragmented market with plenty of scope for consolidation. Partially offsetting these weaker returns, a number of the Fund's holdings delivered strong returns over the period, including Japanese gaming company Nintendo. Nintendo is a great example of the type of companies we like to own in our portfolio as the company has a durable and growing franchise, benefitting from its globally-recognised portfolio of characters, as well as an exceptionally strong balance sheet and a healthy long-term growth profile.

Market outlook

This year continues to surprise in so many ways. Initially the surprise was the emergence of the Covid-19 pandemic, then the shut-down of much of the global economy, then the unprecedented (in peacetime) fiscal and monetary response of virtually all major economies. There are likely more surprises to come with the US election, decisions about continuing with fiscal programmes and, at some point, debates about how to pay for the measures implemented so far. In this environment, we have been continuing to focus on the longer term beyond when short-term fiscal and monetary measures are likely to have normalised and after Covid-19 will hopefully have passed, and the economy will function more like before.

We remain cognisant of the issues facing the global economy in the near term, and that various programmes that have been put in place to support economies and industries cannot continue indefinitely. As a result, we have been continuing to focus on finding companies whose business models are resilient enough to withstand the current crisis and where they will continue to grow once the crisis has passed.

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund

Performance

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 12.7% on the Class I USD Acc share class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 13.6%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 12.3% on the Class I USD Acc share class.

On a sector level the Fund's underperformance was driven by positions in some of the more cyclical sectors, such as Consumer Discretionary, Industrials and Financials. Offsetting these positions were gains from our underweight positions to defensive sectors such as Consumer Staples and Real Estate, which were left behind in a period of strong market performance.

On a country level the Fund's underperformance was primarily due to positions in the Asian markets – China and Japan in particular. Offsetting this were gains from the underweight position to the UK market, which continues to suffer from an out of favour sector mix and a Brexit overhang.

Market outlook

The swift and sizeable Covid-19 policy response from central banks and governments has managed to cushion the economic shock and lift markets, as policymakers try to see past the virus and think longer term. However, the second wave in Europe reminds us that the battle is far from over and until a vaccine is widely available, economies will likely remain constrained by measures aimed at slowing the spread of the virus. It is therefore important that governments continue to support consumer incomes and businesses until a vaccine is available or until the virus is brought under control by other means.

With the initial shock fading, a new normal will come into view that includes a persistent virus that continues to prevent a full return across all sectors, but global activity that can still rebound in spite of the risks. The near term can continue to get better as we have seen in recent data, even as we take stock of the longer term damage to balance sheets, investment and productivity.

Investors also need to start paying attention to old, familiar risks they had pushed to the back burner during the crisis: potential tensions with China are on the rise around the world. We expect tough talk together with some action against weaker players (example: new trade sanctions on Australia by China). Over the next few months the US election outcome and its implications will dominate the news cycle.

While we still remain optimistic, investors will need to stay alert and we continue to believe it makes sense to aim for a well-diversified, dynamic portfolio.

Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund

Performance

Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund (the "Fund") terminated on 1 October 2020. The Fund generated a gross return of +6.3% on the Class I EUR Acc share class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of -0.2%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of +6.0% on the Class I EUR Acc share class.

In the first quarter of 2020 the dual crisis of Covid-19 and the simultaneous oil price war caused a rapid market sell-off. The speed and depth of the sell-off had a significant impact to performance. No market was unscathed and even defensive assets such as government bonds and gold proved unreliable.

With Covid-19 spreading globally we started to move to a more defensive positioning. We cut equities, which to us were the obvious areas that would feel pain. We added to certain credit areas such as investment grade credit and emerging market hard currency bonds which we felt would be the beneficiaries of a low interest environment.

In the period under review, we have built up our equity exposure, funded from cash and government bonds, while maintaining a preference for growth equities via our technology exposure. Technology we feel will be one of the most resilient sectors during this slowdown. Not only will certain online trends accelerate during the shutdown, but we expect corporate spend on IT to increase during the recovery. Recently we have added some more cyclical within equities, buying the European Banks sector and US Midcap companies.

High yield bonds and emerging bonds also were a strong contributor to the Q2 return as the stimulus measures discussed above reassured markets and allowed spreads to compress.

FRS 102 requires the Funds to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Manager. The Manager considers observable data to be market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

9. Efficient portfolio management

The Funds may use Financial Derivative Instruments (“FDIs”) for efficient portfolio management. The efficient portfolio management purposes for which the Company intends to employ FDIs are reduction of risk, reduction of cost and the generation of additional capital or income for the relevant Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund and the general provisions of the UCITS Regulations. The Company may use various types of derivatives for these purposes, including, without limitation, warrants, exchange traded futures and options, forward currency contracts, swaps (including but not limited to total return swaps, credit default swaps, and IRSs), contracts for differences, index-linked notes and share and commodity index futures contracts for these purposes.

Risk Monitoring of Global Exposure

The Funds have been classified as a non-sophisticated user of FDI and, as permitted by the Central Bank UCITS Regulations, the Company has adopted a commitment approach (the “Commitment Approach”) in the calculation of global exposure for the fund during the financial period.

In accordance with the UCITS Regulations, the Commitment Approach has been calculated, in the case of forward currency contracts (“FCCTs”), by converting the FCCT position into an equivalent position based on the market value of the underlying asset. As the FDI are used for hedging purposes, the exposure of the FDI has been calculated and then netted against the instrument being hedged. The Global Exposure calculation is performed on a daily basis.

In no circumstances will the global exposure of the Funds exceed 100% of its Net Asset Value.

Barings Investment Funds Plc

For the financial period ended 31 October 2020

12. Soft commission arrangements

The Investment Manager will pay for research from their own books, as commission paid on trades will be “execution only”, which is the agreed cost for that broker to settle the trade (31 October 2019: same).

13. Contingent liabilities

There are no contingent liabilities at financial period-end 31 October 2020 and financial year-end 30 April 2020.

14. Transactions with connected persons

The UCITS Regulations require that any transaction carried out with the Company by a Manager, Depositary, Investment Manager and/or associate of these (“connected persons”) must be carried out as if negotiated at arm’s length. Transactions must be in the best interests of the shareholders.

The Board of Directors of the Company are satisfied that there are arrangements (evidenced by written procedures) in place to ensure that the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations are applied to all transactions with connected persons, and are satisfied that transactions with connected persons entered into during the period complied with the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations.

15. Segregated liability of Funds

The Company is an umbrella fund with segregated liability between Funds. As a result, and as a matter of Irish law, any liability attributable to a particular Fund may only be discharged out of the assets of that Fund and the assets of other Funds may not be used to discharge that liability.

16. Taxation

Under current Irish law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended (the “TCA”). On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise if a “chargeable event” occurs. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation, transfer or deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of holding shares in the Company for a period of eight years or more, or the appropriation or cancellation of shares of a shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer.

No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events due to:

- (a) a shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes at the time of the chargeable event, provided that a relevant declaration is in place (in accordance with Schedule 2b of the TCA) and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is no longer materially correct; or
- (b) a shareholder who is an exempt Irish investor (as defined in Section 739D TCA).

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Company may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its shareholders.

The Finance Act 2010 provides that the Revenue Commissioners may grant approval for Investment Companies marketed outside of Ireland to make payments to non-resident investors without deduction of Irish tax where no relevant declaration is in place, subject to meeting “equivalent measures”. An Investment Company wishing to receive approval must apply in writing to the Revenue Commissioners, confirming compliance with the relevant conditions.

For the financial period ended 31 October 2020

17. Chinese capital gains tax

On 6 February 2020, Barings China A-Share Fund Plc merged its net assets and contingent tax liability with Barings China A-Share Fund (the "Fund"). As a result, any future tax liabilities will now be incurred by Barings China A-Share Fund, a sub-fund of Barings Investment Funds.

On 15 November 2014, a circular from the Chinese authorities was published which both announced a temporary tax exemption on any gains realised from 17 November 2014 onwards by non-Chinese resident investors on the disposal of China A-Shares and also confirmed that any similar gains realised in the five years prior to 17 November 2014 would potentially be subject to Chinese tax.

As an Irish domiciled fund, the Fund has made a filing with the Chinese authorities on the basis that the gains realised on the disposal of non-land rich China A-Shares could obtain the benefit of the China/Ireland double tax treaty, and filed all appropriate returns for the period up to 17 November 2014. Based on domestic Chinese professional advice in relation to the temporary tax exemption, the Fund does not currently have any provision for capital gains tax on non-land rich China A-Shares.

It should be noted that at this time there remains no indication as to when the temporary tax exemption referred to above might cease, potentially causing some or all of the gains realised after any cessation of the exemption to become subject to Chinese tax. Therefore, given the residual uncertainty surrounding the eventual tax treatment of historic non-land rich gains referred to above and the potential for future land rich or non-land rich gains to become taxable if the current temporary exemption ceases to apply, provisions may have to be made at any time for taxation which could be levied by China on the Fund. Consequently, investors may have been advantaged or disadvantaged depending upon the position of the Chinese tax authorities in the future and the level of any provisioning, proving to be either excessive or inadequate when they subscribed for or when they redeemed their shares in the Company.

18. Bank facilities

There is a bank overdraft facility in place with The Northern Trust Company ("TNTC"). An "uncommitted" multi-currency loan facility has been made available by TNTC to the Funds. During the financial period ended 31 October 2020, Barings China A-Share Fund, Barings Europe Select Fund, Barings European Opportunities Fund, Barings German Growth Fund, Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund, Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund and Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund have drawn down on this facility (31 October 2019: Barings China A-Share Fund, Barings China Select Fund, Barings Europe Select Fund, Barings European Opportunities Fund, Barings Frontier Markets Fund, Barings German Growth Fund, Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund, Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund and Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund).

19. Material changes to the Prospectus

An updated Prospectus of the Company was issued on 31 August 2020. The following are the material changes made:

Benchmarks

New disclosures were introduced around benchmarks and their use within the context of each Fund.

Fund operating mechanisms

The Redemption Deferral Policy was updated to provide for being able to limit redemptions on any dealing day to 10% of the NAV rather than 10% of the shares in issue, as per the current approach. A fourth supplemental Trust Deed has been put in place to facilitate this change in respect of the Unit Trust.

The procedures regarding the Termination of a Fund were updated to provide for proceeds to be paid to charity at the expiration of 3 years from the date of a fund's termination.

There are other immaterial changes to the Prospectus that are not listed above.

20. Significant events

Mr. Timothy Schulze resigned as Director of the Company with effect from 10 August 2020.

The Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund Class I USD Inc was closed on 18 August 2020 and was subsequently re-launched on 22 September 2020. The class was further closed on 16 October 2020 and subsequently re-launched on 20 October 2020.

The Prospectus of the Company was updated on 31 August 2020. The material changes to the Prospectus are outlined in note 19.

The Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund terminated on 1 October 2020.

Mr. Peter Clark resigned as Director of the Company with effect from 21 October 2020.

COVID-19

The spread of Covid-19 around the world in 2020 has caused significant volatility in international markets. There is still uncertainty around the breadth and duration of business disruptions related to Covid-19, as well as its impact on international economies and, as such, the Company is actively monitoring the extent of the impact to its operations, financial accounting and reporting.

Brexit

The United Kingdom (the "UK") held a referendum on 23 June 2016 on whether to leave or remain in the European Union (the "EU"). The outcome of the referendum was in favour of leaving the EU. The UK officially withdrew from the EU on 31 January 2020 but will continue to follow all of the EU rules and its trading relationship will remain the same until the end of the transitional period ending on 31 December 2020.

There are a number of uncertainties in connection with the future of the UK and its relationship with the EU, including the terms of the agreement it reaches in relation to its withdrawal from the EU and any agreements it reaches in relation to its future relationship with the EU and Barings continues to plan for a number of possible scenarios. Barings is committed to ensuring continuity of service for its investors and protecting its business against potential regulatory or other market access barriers related to Brexit. In this regard, Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited ("BIFMI"), will continue as the Manager of the Company and the Sub-Funds will continue to be registered for distribution into relevant jurisdictions in the EU and elsewhere. Portfolio management in respect of European investments will continue to be delegated to Baring Asset Management Limited, a UK entity. The custodians and administrators of the Sub-Funds are also EU entities. In addition, BIFMI has enhanced its presence in Dublin and recruited locally at all levels to staff its new office, reflecting the increased significance of BIFMI's role within the Barings business.

Whilst the medium to long-term consequences of the decision to leave the EU remain uncertain in any scenario, there could be short-term volatility which could have a negative impact on general economic conditions, business and consumer confidence in both the UK and EU, which may in turn have negative political, economic and market impacts more widely. The longer-term consequences may be affected by the terms of any future arrangements the UK has with the EU. Among other things, the UK's decision to leave the EU could lead to changes in the law and tax treatment of funds, instability in the equity, debt and foreign exchange markets, including volatility in the value of sterling or the euro.

There have been no other significant events during the financial period-end that, in the opinion of the Directors, may have had an impact on the financial statements for the financial period ended 31 October 2020.

21. Subsequent events

There have been no events subsequent to the financial period-end which, in the opinion of the Directors, may have had an impact on the financial statement for the financial period ended 31 October 2020.

22. Approval of financial statements

The financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors of the Company on 17 December 2020.

General information

For the financial period ended 31 October 2020

Market timing

Repeatedly purchasing and selling shares in the Funds in response to short-term market fluctuations – known as ‘market timing’ – can disrupt Baring Asset Management Limited’s (the “Investment Manager’s”) investment strategy and increase the Funds’ expenses to the prejudice of all shareholders. The Funds are not intended for market timing or excessive trading. To deter these activities, the Directors of the Company may refuse to accept an application for shares from persons that it reasonably believes are engaged in market timing or are otherwise excessive or potentially disruptive to the Funds.

The Directors of the Company reserve the right to redeem shares from a shareholder on the basis of the circumstances of the shareholder concerned, or if it has reasonable grounds to believe that the shareholder is engaging in any activity which might result in the Funds or their shareholders as a whole suffering any legal, regulatory, reputational or other material disadvantage which the Funds or their shareholders as a whole might not otherwise have suffered.

UK reporting fund status

UK taxable investors in UK reporting funds are subject to tax on their share of the UK reporting funds’ income attributable to their holdings in the Funds, whether or not distributed, while typically any gains on disposal of their holdings are subject to capital gains tax.

Details of the share classes which currently have UK reporting fund status are available at the Her Majesty’s Revenue and Customs (“HMRC”) Investment Funds Centre website:

<http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/cisc/offshore-funds.htm>.

As stated above, UK tax payers should note that for each share class with reporting fund status, their share of any amounts of income, if any, that have not been distributed will be subject to tax.

Further details will be made available on the Baring Asset Management Limited website: www.barings.com.

Special risks resulting from tax publication requirements in Germany

Foreign investment companies (such as Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited (the “Manager”)) must provide documentation to the German fiscal authorities upon request, e.g. in order to verify the accuracy of published tax information.
